“Moving Forward...”

Looking back on a seemingly endless year, with several activities to reflect on, the 2001-2002 year passed with many changes. The students started forgetting rivalries and seeing the good in things. Players of all sports forgot about bad times and focused on what was coming ahead.

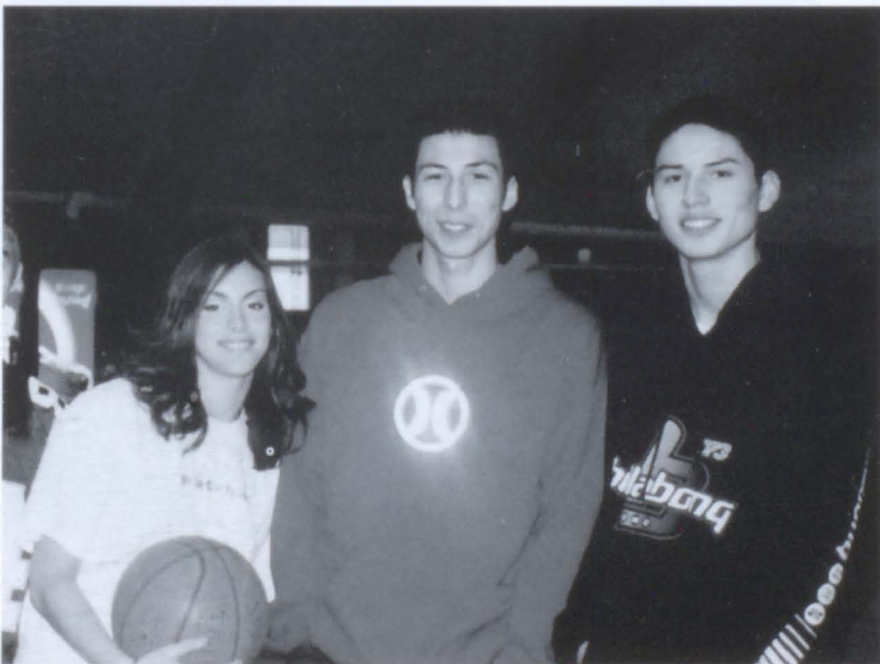

As we remember all of the accomplishments the students and school have made, we always have something good to reflect on. With the senior class comprised of different personalities, they forgot the bad, remembered the good, and thought of the future. As they looked back on their high school years, they had numerous memories on which to reflect. Whether those memories are good or bad, they have learned from them and are ready to take on the future.

As we look forward toward the upcoming possibilities we have, we see all of the things we have already accomplished.

“Looking Back”

Before the home varsity basketball game against Lisbon, cheerleader Jessinda Remmick plays the national anthem on her flute.

Trevor Hokana is all tucked out after taking in some wrestling action.

At homecoming coronation, Tasha Rohrbach, Ricki Vasvick, Cyndal Orwig, and Angela Thielges perform "The Rose."

Master of Ceremonies, Nate Ketterling watches as Stacy Retzlaff outlines Brent Hardy's eyes before the annual dinner theater.

On Hawaiian Day, Brian O'Neill papers his locker in celebration of homecoming week.

Working the concession stand, Brittany Fischer serves up some hotdogs at the last home wrestling match.

In the library, Corinne Havery jots down some answers on her chemistry assignment.

Keeping Spirits High a Challenge During Homecoming Week

Homecoming spirits were down as celebrations were dampened by rain and bad weather, basketball and football losses, and the tragedies in New York and Washington. Despite these setbacks, students still participated in spirit week festivities, cheered on the football team and attended the homecoming dance.

The week began with high hopes as the students dressed for Hawaiian Day. Senior Justin Gusaas, (aka Justina), won most spirited as a girl hula dancer in a grass skirt, coconut top and lei. "I can't believe I won," said Kathleen Redmond when she also won most spirited on Monday.

When students came to school for Dress-Up Day, they were horrified by the news of the plane crashes at the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. Classes were interrupted as teachers turned on the news to keep up with the latest developments. But not even a tragedy of that caliber put a stop to the coronation activities planned for that night.

"I look like a dork," said freshman Amber Janke when she dressed up as a ditzzy Hope-Page cheerleader for the freshman skit. The chorus songs and humorous skits boosted homecoming morale and the gym filled with cheers as Will Kronberg and Kassendra Glynn were crowned homecoming king and queen.

"How did she get her hair to stick out?" questioned freshman Ashley Wacholz about Kate Martin who came to school Wednesday as Pippi Longstocking, complete with braids, mismatched socks and rolled up old over-alls. This outfit won her best dressed for Superstar Day along with Kassendra Glynn and Chris Orwig, who came as Superwoman and Vikings star Randy Moss.

"I can't believe I looked like that in high school!" said Mrs. Skunberg as she laughed at students dressed for 80's Day. The typical old lady of the 80's was portrayed by best-dressed Amber Smith. Other winners were Cyndal Orwig and Jeremy Monroe for their funky 80's attire.

"Jeez, Kacey stinks!" complained Dana Schlosser about Kacey Holm, who was half black, half red from head to toe for Red and Black Day, Friday. He was still painted when he and Kate Martin received their awards for the most spirited boy and girl from the National Honor Society at Friday's pep rally.

"Even though we lost, I still enjoyed cheering on the team and watching my boyfriend play," said freshman Tara Mertz after the Cardinals were beaten in the homecoming game by Hope-Page, 14-0.

"We all had fun and that's what counts," summarized Heidi Thielges, sophomore, when asked about the week. Even though the week didn't bring as many triumphs as hoped, the student body still had a great time.

Homecoming Royalty: Helen Biggs, David Catlette, Jessica Zinter, Brent Rall, Little Mr. Ellendale Matthew McQuarrie, Queen Kassendra Glynn, King Will Kronberg, Little Miss Ellendale Darian Durheim, Erica Martin, Kyle Glynn, Rebecca Rodlund, Tim Rockwood.

On Superstar Day, Cyndal Orwig and Corrine Havery dress up as Britney Spears and Christina Aguilera.

Senior Erica Martin and junior Anne Kaiser tell it like it is on 80's Retro Day.

Helen Biggs and Kassendra Glynn perform the skit "Beating Eggs" at the homecoming pep rally.

The 'Contagious Man' Will Kronberg sits in the doctor's office with Lindy Phoenix and Kristi Hafey during the senior skit at the pep rally.

Explaining his project to the judge, Nick Berens points to his results.

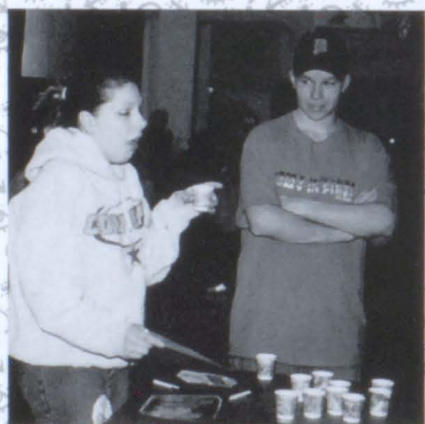

At the local science fair, senior high grand prize winner Kelli Aldrich answers questions about her project for the public.

Jennifer Hasz stands beside her project at the regional science fair held in James town.

Physics student, Brian O'Neill situates his bridge as Mr. Hack prepares to add the weights. His bridge won with a weight load of 60 pounds.

After being selected from our region to attend the International Science and Engineering Fair, Kate Martin and Robert Hernandez celebrate. The week-long ISEF took place in Louisville, Kentucky.

Fall to Finish

Early in the fall, students begin the lengthy science fair process. First, they select a project. "I found it on the internet and rearranged it some," Allison Mattheis commented.

Not only must they select a project, but they must meet many deadlines along the way. For example, they must do a review of literature. Finding background information takes much time. Later, the experiment is conducted. Before local science fair, students add the final touches to their projects. Then, it is time to put them on display. Judging takes place during the school day. Science fair opens to the public in the evening.

In addition, the upper science classes take an active roll in this event. Chemistry makes food products and compares them to the brand names. Advanced Biology creates health exhibits. The Physics class competes to build the strongest bridge.

After the local science fair, twenty-one students moved on to the regional competition at Jamestown. From the Jamestown science fair, fourteen students out of thirty-two from our region advanced to the state level held at Minot State University.

"It was fun, because we got to meet new people and work on our speaking abilities and presenting ideas to people," Katie Nicklay stated about her experience at state.

Robert Hernandez and Kate Martin had the opportunity to attend the International Science and Engineering Fair. To help fund their trip to ISEF the Ellendale Masons sponsored a pancake feed at the Senior Center.

Although many hours are put into the project, it is well worth the effort. This ongoing project can take a student to many different places. Where it takes a young person nobody knows.

Making their way through the grand march for the second time, Nate Ketterling, Amy Hardy, Kayla Peldo, and Beau Garreau pause for pictures.

Helen Biggs and Lindy Phoenix, escorted by their dates Zach Leibel and Brent Hardy go through the grand march the second time.

Barrel racing backwards on stick horses at post prom, Matt Arnold and Keith Bobbe show off their cowboy skills.

Anne Kaiser and Randy Hahne slow dance to the sounds of Digital D.J. from Oakes.

At their first prom, the Junior class gets together to show their stuff.

Junior/Senior Prom

April 13, 2002

To start the night off, Will Kronberg and Corrine Havery share a dance.

Steve Gans entertains himself by building a tower of cups at the banquet.

Eric Fuher, along with other juniors, takes Friday off to decorate.

Austin Ulmer poses for the crowd with his date Brianna Ketterling and other couple Jessica Ketterling and Brett Thielges.

SEEDS OF KNOWLEDGE

EHS Students Harvest Benefits of Learning, Test Their Abilities

Upon entering the halls of EHS on a rainy spring day, one would see many sets of muddy footprints leading to the classrooms where the seeds of knowledge are planted.

Today and yesterday, the benefits are being reaped by the students in the 2002 junior high and senior high school academic competitions and events. Each student represents an acre and this year the yield was high as many students found success.

Music Students Recieve 9 Stars at State

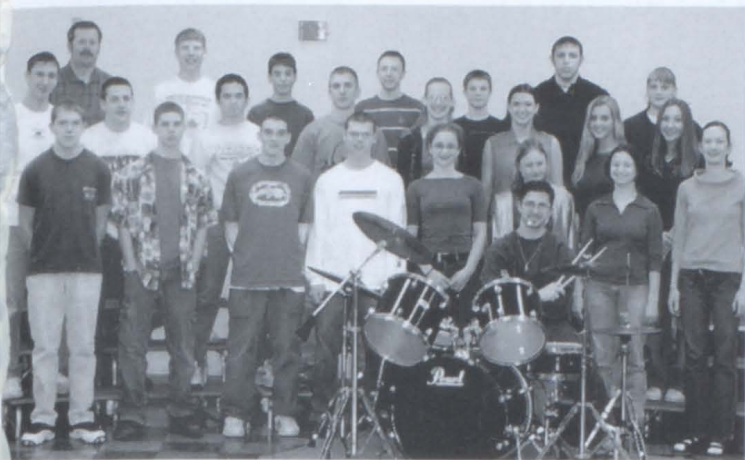

Twenty-two students made the trip to Bismarck to compete in the state music contest at Bismarck State College. Helen Biggs said, "It was a great time, and I encourage others to try to get to the state level, and it is good experience for my career." All of the students enjoyed being at the state competition.

Amber Smith summed it all up by saying, "It was great!" Top Performance One-Act Advances to State Competition

Members of the Take II Drama Club had an extremely successful year. Since the early seventies EHS has not advanced to the state level. This year's group of thespians beat the odds at the regional competition held in Gackle. Helen Biggs and Will Kronberg received Superior Acting awards at this competition. Mr. Masset also took home Director of the Year Award.

The winning performance, entitled "It's Cold in Them Thar Hills," takes place in a hillbilly cabin. Ma and Pa are trying to marry off their oldest daughters. When young, handsome Bill Vandemere comes along, the filthy eldest daughter, Snoddy, "takes a shine to him." A shotgun wedding follows, keeping the audience rolling in laughter.

After many early morning practices, the group headed to Bismarck to perform in the State B plays. The cast and crew went up the day before and attended U of Mary's production of "Richard III". "The play was kind of hard to understand at times, but I enjoyed it," said senior Kristi Hafey.

Although the play did not place at state, it was a positive learning experience for all. Senior Stacy Retzlaff won a Superior Acting Award. "Because of this, I learned that perseverance and hard work pay off no matter what you're doing," commented Stacy.

The comedy was shown at the annual Dinner Theatre in early December. "We geared our play to the audience back home when we chose this act," remarked senior actress Amanda Heine.

At the wedding, the bratty children, Neellie Ann (Amanda Heine) and Sarray (Sue Wall) get into a squabble.

Reflecting On Choices

CASPER and D.O.C.K. are two very active groups. Other than both their names being acronyms, both clubs are helping the school and community through such events as CASPER's carnival (which helps groups raise money for projects and activities) and D.O.C.K.'s end of the year bash. Casper went to the state SADD conference and D.O.C.K. went to see Reggie Dabbes (a motivational youth speaker). CASPER and D.O.C.K. are two groups committed to helping students make the right decisions.

When It Rains, It Pours

Even though they fought hard, the football team struggled. The offense began the season slowly but were able to pull things together after a few games.

The defense played hard but things did not always go their way, even the weather. Many of the games this year were cold and wet. The team was one and seven for the season.

Coach Hack said, "We will have talent and experience coming back on both sides of the ball. The backfield will be strong and the linemen should do very well."

Next year the football team will be very experienced and will have the strength, speed, and talent to win games.

Sophomore quarterback Kirk Glynn counts out the play for the snap from junior center Eric Fuher in the opening game of the season against the Fairmont Rebels.

During the homecoming game against Hope-Page, the offensive line engages their men as Kirk Glynn drops back to hand off the ball.

Team Rebuilds With New Coach

This year's girls' basketball season began with a new coach, Dallas Hinderer from Flasher, ND. Before he came to Ellendale to teach elementary science, he was assistant coach at Dickinson State.

"I enjoyed the whole season, from meeting everyone to the last game, and how they improved as the season went on," exclaims Coach Hinderer. The whole team approved of the new coach, especially the seniors.

Erica Martin says, "Coach

Hinderer taught us a lot and I think he really prepared EHS for a great season next year."

Kassendra Glynn advises next year's players, "Work hard in the off season, work hard in practice, and have no regrets."

Coach Hinderer's plan for next year is to win lots and lots and lots and lots of basketball games. He also believes that the season ended with a huge plus when the team played well in district tournaments.

Boxing out at regionals in Jamestown, Senior Erica Martin plays defense against the Edgeley Rangers.

The Cardinals began the season winning three of four games. Even though the rest of the season wasn't quite as successful, the team worked hard to the end.

"Even though we had some tough games, we always stuck with it," said senior Steve Gans.

They also worked well together as a team, never giving up or quitting.

As senior Tim Rockwood said, "The team played well together all season long until the very end."

The team showed their spirit by nearly beating the first seed team, BCN, in the challenge game at the district tournaments.

Thunder Wrestlers Place At State

For the first time since Edgeley and Ellendale wrestling teams combined in 1993, two Thunder wrestlers captured state medals. Ellendale senior Sam Sand placed second in the 215-lb. championship match and Edgeley senior David Moch placed first in the 171-lb. championship match. The last time an Ellendale wrestler won a title match was in 1992.

Sam was also voted Region 1 Outstanding Senior Wrestler for 2001-2002 by the region coaches and both wrestlers were named to the Aberdeen American News Area Wrestlers Team.

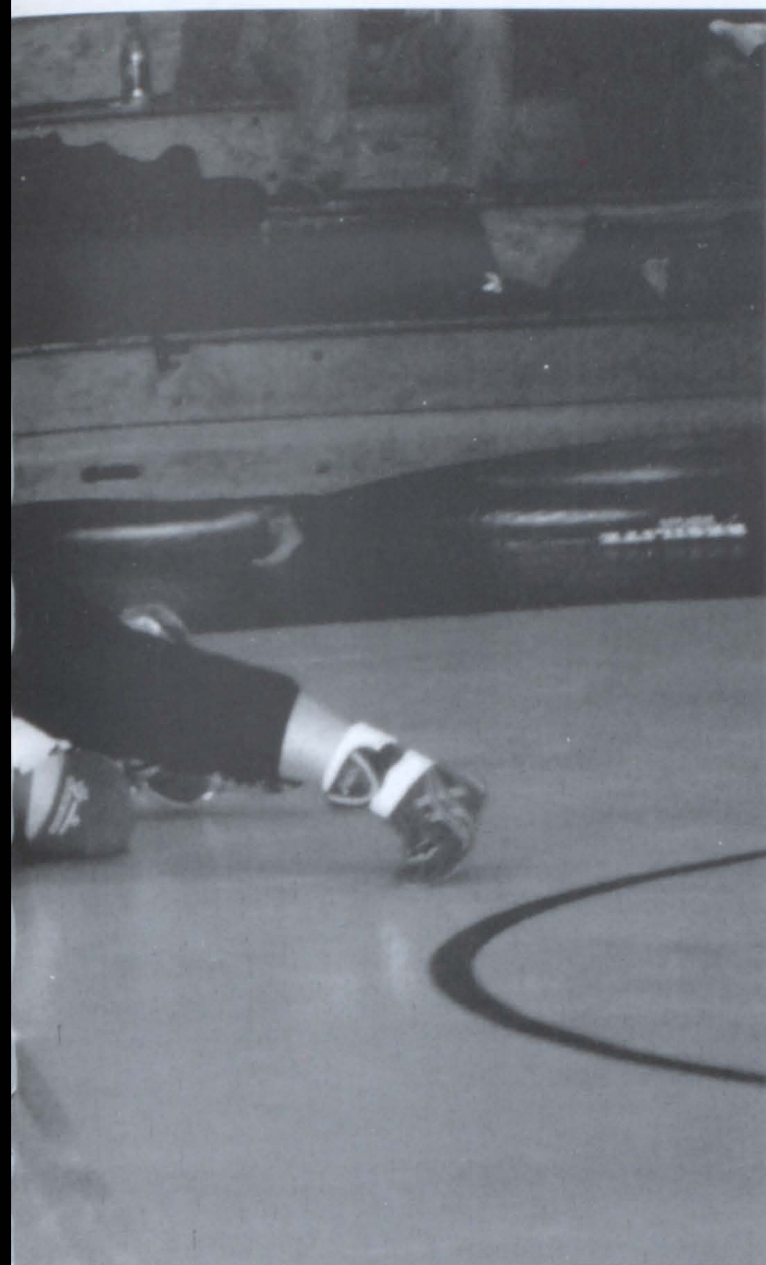

Eighth grade wrestler Evan Merkel at 103 pounds also qualified for the state tournament in Minot, gaining good experience for the future.

Going the Distance

Cardinal volleyball highlighted their season this year by beating Edgeley at the district tournament in Oakes and advancing to the regional tournament in Wishek for the first time in six years.

Jessica Zinter commented, "Going to regionals was exciting because it was only the second time Ellendale has made it."

Senior captains, Katie Mahler, Jessica Zinter, and Danielle Grant put their hard work and effort into leading the team to a season record of 6-14. The team will be without those three members next season but will return fired up and ready to win.

Sophomore Laura Walsh was named to the All-District Team.

New Coach Takes Over

The summer of 2001, the Ellendale Cheerleaders attended the Cheerleaders of America camp. They learned new cheers, dance routines, and the major new thing - STUNTING!

"It was a really good learning experience and it added a lot to our squad," said Corinne Havery, varsity football and basketball cheerleader. The cheerleaders held the camp at the high school.

"By stunting I think we became stronger, and grew closer as a team," said Jessinda Remmick, varsity football and basketball cheerleader. The cheerleaders would not have been able to come this far without the help of a new coach, Holli Jo. Kronberg.

Mrs. Kronberg organized so much for the cheerleaders during the 2001-2002 season. She helped the cheerleaders with the new spirit week in February.

"Holli has been very dedicated, even when we haven't been. She has helped us come a long way, and she has made cheerleading very fun. She has truly been the best," said Cyndal Orwig, varsity football and basketball cheerleader.

"I have had a great year with the girls and can't wait for many more years to come," said Coach Kronberg.

Shooting Stars

"The Cardettes"

The Cardettes can reflect on their 2002 season as extremely hard work that led to the reclaiming of their dance title at the state NDADD competition. Their bodies were captivating as they jumped, glided, and snapped in synchrony across the floor of the Jamestown Civic Center to every beat. The spectators showed their enthusiasm of the Cardettes' performances in the Dance and High Kick categories with ecstatic cheering. The Cardettes maintained their composure as they were chosen to continue on to the dance finals from the sixteen competing Class B teams. In fact, they were ranked second in the preliminary round. After one more fantastic jam to the rhythm of their action-packed music, their hearts skipped a beat when they were awarded third place in the dance finals and fifth place in the high kick category. Their straddles were even declared to be the best in state!

The Cardettes have made a powerful influence on half-time entertainment at EHS. Community members gather at the home basketball games to see the energy of these eleven dedicated girls. These committed individuals and their dedicated coaches, Sonja Bommersbach and Kari Nishek, organized a Spring Program showing off their every move. They taught elementary and junior high girls flashy routines and even got the guys involved with a fun guy-girl routine.

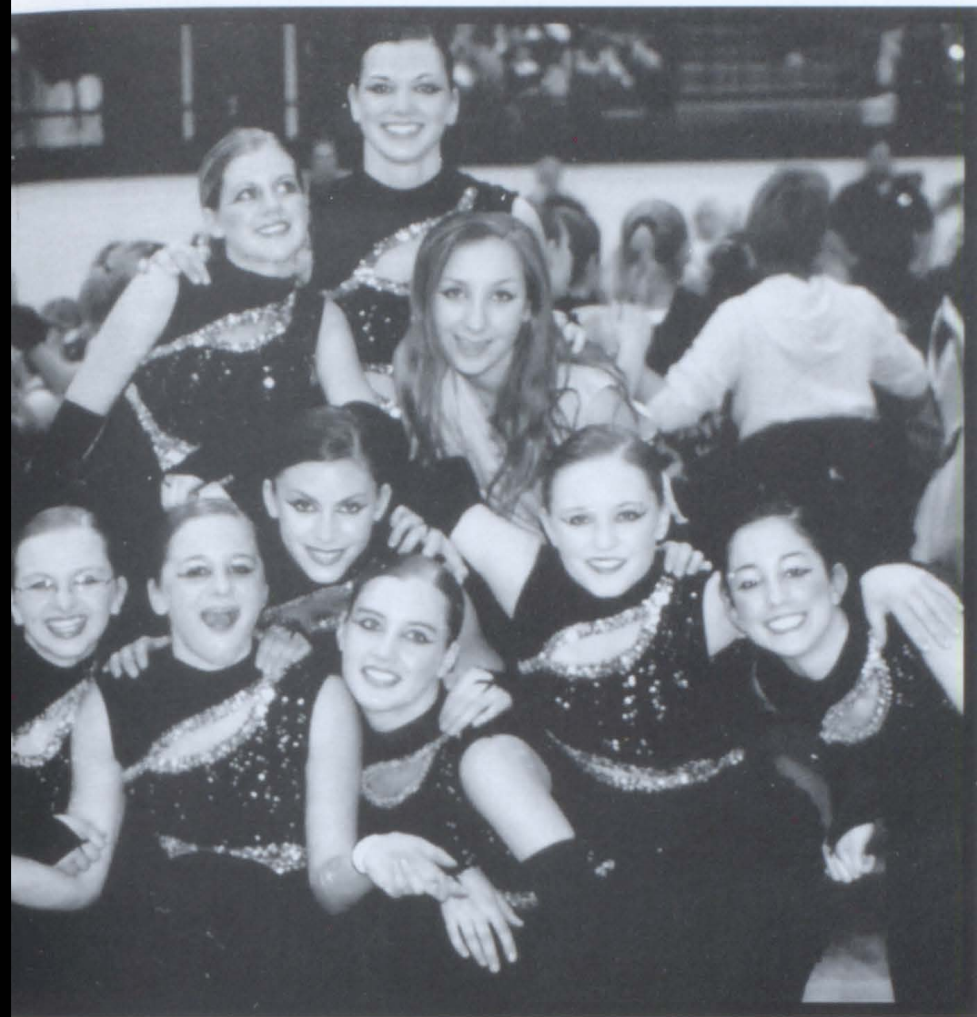

Congratulations Cardettes on a snappy season! Sophomore dancer Marisa Merkel put it into plain words, "All our dedication to the 6 AM practices really paid off!" EHS looks forward to seeing these talented girls in action next year!

Track Superstars Keep it Real

The track season ended with a bang when EHS sent 11 out of 25 members to state competition in Grand Forks. They qualified in various events from relays to individual events.

"It was a fun experience to meet new people and compete against so many talented opponents," says Melissa Arnold.

Kassendra Glynn explains, "State Track was a good way to end my track career because I ran the 400 of my life." Even though the team was smaller this year, everyone made spectacular advancements toward their personal and team goals.

Four-time state qualifier Helen Biggs clears the bar on her way to a first place finish in high jump at regionals.

Die Hard Golfers

Go The Distance

The cold and rainy spring weather caused a shortened golf season. However, in late May twelve of EHS's finest golfers had the chance to attend the State Tournament at Fargo. Boys and girls that qualified were Justin Gusaas, Amy Hardy, Brett Thielges, Brianna Ketterling, Kyle Glynn, Heather Brauer, Tanner Martin, Katie Spitzer, Dylan Brokaw, Tiffany Fuller, Brian O'Neill, and Angela Thielges. Both the boys' and girls' teams took their games to a level that had never been achieved before at Ellendale High.

Juniors Share Memories, Look Forward to Last Year

The juniors have many memories about this last year.

Jason Fischer said his favorite memory is when Eric broke his tooth with a wrench when fixing his truck.

Corinne Havery says, "My most memorable moment was when I went to Jamestown with the Health Careers class to get certified for a nurses' aid."

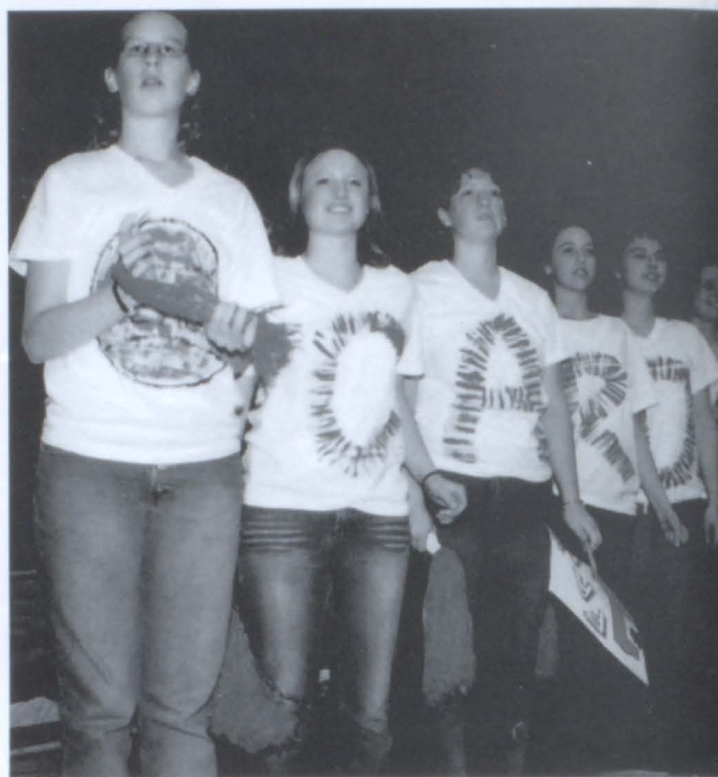

Along with having memories from this past year, many of the juniors are looking forward for things to come next year.

When Nathan Ketterling was asked about what excites him about being a senior, he said, "I cannot wait to be the first in line at lunch. I want my food!"

All the juniors interviewed did agree on one thing that they are ready for next year. They cannot wait to graduate.

Class Meets Challenges Head-on

The sophomore class is a class which has many goals and positive attitudes. With the challenging classes they are taking, they are keeping their heads up high and getting things accomplished.

"Never give up, never surreneder," said Laura Walsh on the hard classes she faces. The class feels they have had a pretty good year.

Tony Sorenson said, "It was ok, but I didn't do the best I should have."

Kellie Aldrich sums up the whole year by saying, "It's all good."

Starting Fresh!

As the class of 2005 entered high school, they faced new challenges and experiences.

The students had a different perspective about how the teachers react, but they still found a way to learn new and exciting things. Kindra Mahler discovered, "teachers have their bad days," but she is learning to accept it.

The freshmen must start at the bottom and work their way up. The students are now aware that school will affect their future. Kacey Holm said that he learned how to foil in Algebra.

Although being a freshman has many hardships Trevor Ulmer said, "The best thing about being a freshmen is finally being out of Junior High."

The freshmen year was full of many memories, including Dana Schlosser's recollection of Mr. Linder growling at the class. Another memory that will stand out in the minds of some freshmen will be having a runaway kid on the football bus.

Dylan Brokaw's advice to next year's freshmen is, "Look out for Mr. T's ring."

This year's difficulties have prepared the freshmen for another year at EHS.

Eighth Grade Races Into the Future

The eighth graders made the most of their last junior high year. Cassy Berry said, "Be adventurous. You're only in eighth grade once."

As the year ended, Jeremy Monroe looked forward to being older, being further up in the lunch line, and having more people to push around.

Aleah Brady is looking forward to ninth grade and being called a high schooler and getting her drivers' license.

Although eighth grade was a fun experience, this year's eighth graders were faced with the hardships of terrorism.

Seventh Graders Reflect on New, Different Year

As the seventh grade class members reflect on what was memorable from this year, Dianna Payne said, "The first day of school."

She is probably referring to the change from elementary to junior high like Josh Gusaas who said, "Going into junior high."

Two of the biggest changes in junior high are having lockers and the rush between classes. Bethany Rockwood said, "All the kids running in the hall was something new to me."

Another thing that was different was that they had to adjust to going from class to class instead of being in the same class all day. Josh Gusaas said that he didn't know where to go.

Micah Gunther said, "Going home for lunch is one of the good changes about junior high."

Moving into the high school building brought many changes for the seventh graders.

Who is who in the class of 2002?

By: Jessica Zinter

The class of 2002 is the best.
We are smart, creative, and slyer than the rest.

Even though we didn't always excel in sports,
We all have other achievements of all sorts.

Helen would play or sing us a tune,
And could pretty much jump to the moon (high jump that is)

Matt can be seen in his western slicker,
He's been real quiet; you'll never hear him bicker.

Ross was the one with the cabin by the lake,
A lot of times he was quiet but when hunting a riot he could make.

Cowboy Bob was a very intelligent one,
He could draw and design trusses that could hold a ton.

Craig has always played his trumpet real loud,
And when he sings the crowd is quite wowed.

James like dinosaurs from back in the age,
And will hunt just about anything that's not in a cage.

Zach came from Alaska which is quite far,
He always tries to find a ride, for he came with no car.

We also have Kyle, who wants to get his wings,
Who was awesome in basketball and in golf had a killer swing.

Justin has picked up the nickname Goose,
And the ski slopes is where he has fun and cuts loose.

Sam has come to be real muscular,
This helped him become a big USA wrestler.

Steve has always been quite bald,
And when he found the stowaway on the bus, was he ever appalled.

Joel was always sleeping in class or tardy,
And I think it is so he could stay up late to party.

Everyday at 11:30 Leah would always stride
To go do her work for D.O at the local Food Pride.

Katie was always real fast in track,
And when it comes to volleyball you better watch out for her attack.

Dancing, track, and basketball were Kassendra's usual,
And Kansas is her choice for school.

Aaron is a new guy to our class and school,
He plays the guitar, now isn't that just so cool.

Mark is our very awesome drummer,
And has grown to love band camp in the summer.

Then we have Lindy, the new 16-year-old girl in our class,
As for weightlifting we both were lucky to pass.

Then we have Animal (aka) Brent Hardy
He's quite a big hunter and also a smarty.

Then we have the class clown, that would be Dave,
He'll be hooked to Katie until he goes to his grave.

Brian has been very outgoing in POD debates,
Lawn mowing and skiing he both likes to do at high rates.

Even through basketball, a baby, Becca did carry,
And in July she and Wade plan to marry.

Erica has always been really smart,
And she had basketball down to an art.

Kristi, too, has always been really smart,
And her kindness, too, comes from her heart.

Tim plays the bass guitar and basketball
And this year Katie Spitzer became his baby doll.

Amanda loves drama and making the yearbook,
She works for the radio and gets her listeners hooked.

Stacy was the first to move out on her own,
And the first to marry 'cuz she didn't want to be on her own.

Kristin is very independent and fair,
She loves to play with the kids at the daycare.

Will (the drama queen) was a good actor in every play,
And he could play basketball all night and day.

Jessica cheered for only one sport,
She's real tall and her boyfriend is real short.

Brent Ball is so said to be a good leader,
He can fix up cars, even an old beater.

Howard B. Plastic is quite the dude,
When he first came here, he came completely nude.

There are many times we will never forget,
Some of them people may or may not regret.

On the pegboard was the place Will lost his shorts
And David lost his while out on the courts.

Amanda confused organism and orgasm in biology,
Now we are all worried about her terminology.

Some of the guys redid a van to go road tripping in.

They finally found out it had to be finished before their journey could begin.

This year was the first year the drama team made it to state.

In their play, Will and Kristi had to find their daughters a mate.

Kyle hosted Felipe, an exchange student from Brazil,
He tried playing American football and got quite a thrill.

Part of last year, we also had an Aussie.
That was Nicole, who always said "saucy".

Seventeen of these classmates have been here from the start.
And soon thirty-one graduates will all depart.

< Stealing much of the headlines were the events on and after Sept. 11th. More than 3,000 people lost their lives at the twin towers of the World Trade Center, the Pentagon and aboard the four hijacked commercial airliners. Also getting the spotlight were the rescue workers and volunteers who were recognized by all Americans as heroes. Sadly, it also marked the end of R&B sensation Aaliyah, another one of the Beatles' fab four, George Harrison, and legendary comedian, Jack Lemmon. <

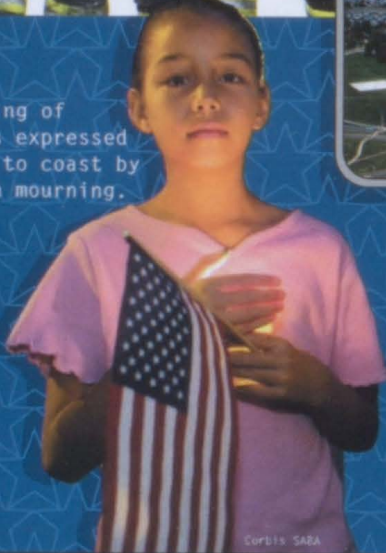

VIGILS

An outpouring of emotion was expressed from coast to coast by a nation in mourning.

FUND-RAISING

Our nation's youth displayed to the world their patriotism and compassion by donating blood and raising monetary contributions in a number of creative ways for the victims and their families.

< After Sept. 11, sitcoms offered plenty of laughs. "Undeclared" centered on quirky college roommates faced with the freedoms of being away from home for the first time. The bewitching comedy, "Sabrina," conjured up strange changes as she became a college sophomore. "Gilmore Girls" explored the odd relationship between a mom with a heart of a teenager and a teenage daughter that acts like an adult. "Angel" used its dark humor to reveal the twists and turns of a vampire avenger in L.A. <

> NEW SITCOMS > "Scrubs" puts a wildly inventive and hilarious spin on hospital life. Instead of assaulting viewers with jokes, "Bernie Mac's" life unravels in unexpected, offbeat ways while he raises his sister's kids.

< As with everything else, it was a strange year for music. How else can you describe the success of the soundtrack "O Brother, Where Art Thou?" and Michael Jackson's less than "Invincible" return as the King of Pop? But that didn't stop 'N Sync, Britney Spears, Usher and the like from commanding the airwaves. Country music got a kick from Tim McGraw who was named CMA Entertainer of the Year, while ears couldn't get enough of newcomer Alicia Keys' "Songs In A Mirror." >

Selected from nearly 2,000 hopefuls, this boy band lived out their musical dreams before the eyes of millions of viewers in the reality show, "Making The Band." Making it big after a hit single, "Liquid Dreams."

< It was another blockbuster year in Hollywood. "Pearl Harbor's" stunning special effects were a big hit. Singer Mandy Moore teamed up with Shane West in a sweet, idealistic love story that brings out the young romantic in everyone. Speaking of true love, young and old fell head over heels for "Shrek." Also in the field of computer-generated optical illusion, "Final Fantasy" proved to be another artistic masterpiece. In contrast, Angelina Jolie brought the video game "Tomb Raider" to life, transforming into the tough archaeologist/adventurer Lara Croft. <

< What were the haute fashion trends? For starters, low-rise jeans were in. And credit Madonna for causing people to switch from the baseball cap to the tattered, straw cowboy hat. The look changed after Sept. 11. People showed their true colors with the return of Old Glory and by wearing "I Love NY" t-shirts.
